

Dear Mommy & Daddy,

I have just received word from God that my life on earth will be lived as your daughter.

As I prepare to be born, I would like for you to know exactly how I will come to you...I don't want any surprises that will make you not want me.

I will come into your world with no instructions and no wisdom. I will be totally dependant on you both. I will need you to love me and care for me until I am grown, at which time I will have been educated exactly how you live your life.

I will love you both with all my heart and I will give you a reason to live...like no other reason you could ever dream possible.

There will be times when I will make you cry and times when you are overwhelmed at the very existence of me in your world...but that is ok. Cause when you cry, I will kiss your tears away and hug you like you are my whole world. And, when you are overwhelmed by my very existence in your world, I promise I will do something to make you know how very special I am...like bringing you nail polish to paint my nails with, or bringing my muddy puppy in the house to watch TV with you.

I will be made from both your DNA and will have traits from the both of you and your families. That will make me a very special little girl, for there will be no other like me.

The one thing you must remember as I grow up, I am a gift from God and he made me from the both of you. I will need the kind of things that only a Daddy can give, and at the same time, I will need the kind of things that only a Mommy can give.

I am very excited about becoming your daughter, as I hope you are excited about becoming my Parents.

Always remember that you Daddy and you Mommy along with Me will be a family...no matter what happens in our lives...we will be connected forever.

I promise to love you both with all my heart and I asked that you never make me choose between the two of you.

Your Daughter Forever
